

Programmer Analyst

Atlanta, GA or Cedar Rapids, IA

inCode is a leading professional services organization that has been providing enterprise solutions, business strategy and telecom technology consulting for progressive companies since 1998. inCode's Enterprise Wireless and Mobility business specializes in designing and delivering mobility solutions that deliver real business value to our clients and their customers. Programmer Analysts are responsible for designing, developing, testing and supporting applications using Visual Studio 2003/2005 (VB .NET, C#), HTML, ASP and Microsoft SQL Server and/or C/C++/JAVA. It is expected that the Developer should be able to effectively design and implement applications with minimal input from more senior team members. Database programming may also be required.

Responsibilities:

- Design software solutions for the inCode Enterprise Consulting Group.
- Develop software solutions for handheld, RF, and barcode devices in accordance with the requirement documentation using inCode standard software toolkits.
- Develop web based solutions across a variety of inCode products
- Ensure development projects are delivered on schedule, on budget, to specification, and according to the inCode Development Methodology.
- Understand, implement, and enforce the inCode software development methodologies.
- Assist in developing detailed estimates for software projects.
- Assist in capturing detailed product requirements.

Qualifications:

- Bachelor of Science in Computer Science or equivalent experience
- 2+ years of experience programming in Visual Basic, .NET, Java or equivalent in a Windows environment.
- 2+ years of experience with relational database design and development
- Object Oriented Methodologies knowledge
- Great problem solver, strong analytical skills.
- Basic knowledge of networking, database programming and systems administration for Windows 2000/2003.
- Demonstrated written and verbal communications skills.
- Experience in .NET Compact Framework a plus
- Experience with Mobile Solutions using WWAN communications a plus.
- Hands on knowledge of Pocket PC and / or Windows CE hardware a plus
- System integration experiences a plus.
- Experience implementing web applications using ASP.NET (2.0), or PHP/Linux a plus